The President's Jack-knives
We Have Some New Plans
And We Need Them
Chinese $1,000 Each
By Arthur Brisbane

Two friends, invited to the White House luncheon yesterday, found Mrs. Coolidge and the President very cheerful. No looming and departure there, but rather cheerfulness, as in a school just before vacation begins.

It is impossible to exaggerate the feeling of responsibility that has welched on the President, taking over the nation at the end of a great war, with tens of millions of debts. He feels now like one about to be relieved of a heavy burden.

The newspaper story has it that the President asked what he planned to do, said he thought he might do "a little whitening." That is not all of the President's plan, of which no one but himself knows anything.

But "whitening" is a word that takes Calvin Coolidge back to his childhood in Vermont, when the most important thing in the world was a jackknife. His costume was a two-piece affair, shirt and overalls; bare feet in summer. The overalls had wide pockets, and life's darkest moment followed a summersault in a hay field and the discovery that the jackknife had fallen out.

The Coolidge jackknives were elaborate, some of them and fairly plentiful for this reason. The President's father sold his country store and its contents, after elaborate trading, the buyer declaring the stock in trade out of date, worthless.

It was agreed that whatever the buyer could not sell within two years Mr. Coolidge would take back.

The time came and the few goods returned, and put up in the Coolidge garage, included bats, no longer in the fashion even in rural Vermont, and several jackknives.

Finding himself in the White House, President of the United States, was no more exciting to Calvin Coolidge grown up than knowing about those "four-bladed" jackknives in the garage to young Calvin in overalls.

Uncle Sam's fleet in the Pacific, about to start for winter maneuvers near Panama, will take along the greatest naval flying fleet ever assembled, 200 flying machines. Secretary Wilbur and the President will be in the navy, are to be congratulated on this fact.

Not a ship in the air fleet to more than nine months old.

It is a comfort to know that we are building some ships. Panama would need them in case of war.

Sensor Reed told the Senate the other day that if we had trouble with Britain, the Panama canal would be wiped out, from the air, within five hours.

Profits have gone up in all directions. Once, Chinese smuggled into this country paid $500 each to the smugglers. Now they pay $100 each and come in by airplane.

Five air smugglers of Chinese and two airplanes have been seized by government agents.

In old days Chinese were smuggled ashore from ships in small boats, had their hands and feet bound. If there was danger of capture, the unfortunate Chinese were tossed overboard to drown.

Neither airplane smugglers would drop their contraband passengers overboard on land or water is not known.

In 1925 foreign countries bought from us $5,129,132,000 worth of goods. We bought from them $1,039,000 less than we sold. A billion trade balance in our favor.

However, we exported $391,752,000 more gold than we imported, and that is not comforting. Strangely, gold ownership proves a nation's prosperity, as excessive gold ownership proved a doctor's impotence.

How much a favorable trade balance really means is hard to say. The balance of trade favored France for the first time in a long while and then the French revolution broke out.

Fortunately we cannot have any revolution here, with 25,000,000 automobiles, almost as many radio sets, vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines, etc.

Dispatches from Rome announce a settlement, dragging since the days of Garibaldi, the questions between the Pope and the Government of Italy.

It is reported that Italy will pay to the Pope by way of indemnity 1,000,000,000 lire equivalent to about $52,500,000. Additional land will be added to the Vatican possessions, including a magnificent villa and a park four miles round.

Whether the Pope will decide now to end their self-imposed confinement to the Vatican grounds, as a protest against confiscation and annulment of temporal power, has not been announced.

HOVER TO OPEN RUM INQUIRY

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The necessity of a sweeping, impartial investigation of prohibition that one of his first acts after entering the White House will be to appoint the citizens commission of nine to conduct the inquiry.

Already the President-elect is giving much thought to the personnel of the commission. The investigation was discussed by Mr. Hoover today with Senator Joseph (Pop) of New Jersey, a wet. They have sponsored a resolution authorizing the President-elect to appoint a commission.

MAN'S ECK BROKEN BY BIG SEA

New York, Jan. 16 (AP)—One cook was killed and several other members of the crew were injured by a gigantic wave that surged over the bow of the White Star liner Majestic on the crossing completed when she docked today.

The wave landed the vessel Monday afternoon and the engine room crew was still pumping out tons of water dumped into the hold at that time when the ship docked.

Upon leaving Judge Fuchs was requested to return later in the day for further questioning.

MRS. RUTH'S FAMILY DESIRES TO WORK IN HARMONY WITH BABE

Neither "Babe" Ruth nor the family of his dead wife may have any legal claim to nine-year-old Dorothy, it appeared today as reports of the second and third autopsies on Mrs. Ruth's body were awaited.

Until these reports are turned in to Dist. Atty. Robert T. Bushnell of Middlesex County by Medical Examiner George L. West of Middlesex and Medical Examiner George B. Magrath of Suffolk, the body cannot be released for burial.

Meanwhile, over in South Boston, Mrs. Johanna Woodford and her sons and daughters—the family of the dead woman—were in a highly nervous state as a result of disappointment over not receiving the remains of Mrs. Ruth.

Plans were made yesterday for the funeral, but when the body was held up the plans were put over until today.

But today the hours went on and no reports were made and the release of the remains was not forthcoming.

It is the desire of the family to hold a wake for one night before funeral services are conducted for Mrs. Ruth.

The status of little Dorothy, now pupil at the Academy of the Assumption in Wollsey, appeared today, after investigation, to be that of a child taken from a Catholic orphanage when 14 months old, but taken only under a "continued custody" agreement.

On this basis, "Babe" and Mrs. Ruth had their custody of Dorothy renewed at the orphanage periodically.

If this is the case, the "legal rights" to the child may remain with the orphanage.

Chairman Snell said he discussed with the President the condition of the House calendar.

SAYS BABE AND WIFE'S FAMILY EXPECT TO HOLD FUNERAL AT HOME TOMORROW AFTERNOON

MRS. WOODFORD DECLARES SHE IS MOTHER OF HELEN

main vested with the orphanage and it is the orphanage, official privilege to claim the child at the expiration of any particular period when custody renewal becomes necessary.

However, "Babe" Ruth, noted for his particular fault of generosity, has lavished all luxuries on little Dorothy and no one yet has raised the cry that she has not had a better life and better opportunities than she would have had in a home—ones such as Ruth himself was brought up in.

Should the family of Mrs. Ruth not contest the custody of the child, it is believed that the "Babe" would be allowed to renew custody of Dorothy so long as he sees fit.

An "understanding" was reached today between the Woodford family and Ruth when Maj. Judson Hannigan, counsel for the family, issued a statement—for the family—that was inspired principally by a number of false interviews credited to Ruth.

In this statement, which included a statement by William Woodford, New York attorney and brother of Mrs. Ruth, Attorney Hannigan stated that there now is no contemplation of court action over custody of Dorothy and that an agreeable council will be held in the matter of the child following the funeral.

Deny Breach Between Babe and Wife's Family

Maj. Hannigan's statement said: "The family of Mrs. Ruth have requested me to convey through the press, to the public, that there is no breach between them and the 'Babe' and none is expected.

"Mr. William Woodford, Mrs. Ruth's brother, put it succinctly to me this morning when he said: 'We want to co-operate with the 'Babe'. He has always been very friendly and, so far as I know, he has always done the right thing.'

"He has always been courteous and very thoughtful of my mother. If he wanted anything, he would get it for her. Misunderstanding and excitement make it appear as if a breach existed between the 'Babe' and the family, but when the excitement and shock of my sister's death have passed away, the real friendship between us will be evident."

"There appears to be sound reason for believing that Dorothy was not the child of the 'Babe' and his wife, either by birth or by adoption.

Officials Satisfied Death Was Accidental

"If this belief turns out to be true, Helen's family is willing and anxious to do all in its power to give that child the same loving care and attention which Mrs. Ruth had given her from babyhood, and in this desire there is every reason to believe that they will have the co-operation of the 'Babe'."

"This does not mean that an attempt will be made by Mrs. Ruth's family to adopt the child, but does mean that they will do whatever is best for her future welfare."

"We are unofficially informed that the body will be released some time today. If this turns out to be true, the funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon, probably at 2 p. m., at the home and a mass will be held at the church on Friday."

"It is not contemplated that any steps will be taken to obtain administration of Mrs. Ruth's estate, or any other legal process taken in connection with other matters, except in full co-operation with Ruth and his attorney, Mr. Freney."

"I am in close touch with Mr. Freney and have agreed with him that we will work together insofar as it is possible, which I believe to be the fullest extent."

Maj. Hannigan stated further that he believes now that Dorothy was taken out of a Brooklyn, N. Y., Catholic orphanage by "Babe" Ruth and his late wife on a "renewed custody" basis, an arrangement under which the girl's custody was renewed from time to time.

Mrs. Woodford, mother of the dead woman, denied today that she is the stepmother of Mrs. Ruth.

"Helen is my own daughter and she was born in 1897 in Leyden st., East Boston," the mother asserted.

"The statement that I am a stepmother puts me in a false light before the public, and if anybody gave that out it is about the same stamp of story as the others that have been issuing about my family and my daughter."

Another Woman Sought to Adopt Ruth Baby

It was learned today from New York that little Dorothy Ruth was sought for temporary adoption by a Brooklyn woman at the same time that Babe Ruth and his wife were seeking to take the child from the Brooklyn orphanage.

The Brooklyn woman eventually withdrew in favor of the Ruths and took another child from the institution for adoption.

EXPECT TO HOLD FUNERAL AT HOME TOMORROW AFTERNOON

of Suffolk County—both to be made to Dist. Atty. Bushnell—were expected to close the case, so far as any mystery in connection with Mrs. Ruth's death is concerned.

All officials connected with the case are satisfied that she met her death in a fire that was accidental and not incendiary.

Dist. Atty. Bushnell has received a report from State ex- perla and has expressed himself as satisfied that the fire was not set, but was caused by defective wiring in the Dr. Kinder home at 47 Quincy st., Watertown.

The investigation already has been dropped by Watertown police and the State detectives ended their connection with the matter when they failed to find any drugs in the office of Dr. Kinder.

Today the only activity on the part of Watertown police was the maintaining of a police guard at the temporary home of the dentist with whom Mrs. Ruth lived as his wife.

Up to today the funeral had been made by Mrs. Claire Hodgson, the blonde Atlanta beauty, now living in New York who was mentioned by Miss Nora Woodford, sister of Mrs. Ruth, as a woman who had entered the "Babe's" life.

The Woodford family statement, issued through Maj. Hannigan, was welcomed at the "Babe's" hotel today, and it was stated by a spokesman for the Yankee singer that he was relieved to learn that his dead wife's people held no rancor for statements falsely attributed to him and published in several newspapers (not, however, in the Boston Evening American).

Not since last Monday night at 620 has "Babe" Ruth talked with anyone, even with a member of the Woodford family.

From 5:40 p. m. on the Monday night 620 he granted an interview, during which he showed, by his actions, that he was stricken in his heart by the tragedy that has befallen his wife.

Since that time several purported "interviews" with the ball player have been published in out-of-town newspapers, but he has given out none, according to his counsel, John P. Fowley, and his closest friend, Arthur Conway, son of Police Superintendent Michael H. Conway.

Other than the "Babe's" companion and not for one minute since his arrival in the city has he been left alone.

Following the Monday night interview, the "Babe" was taken out of the hotel by police and was secretly brought back again within a few hours.

Yesterday he was taken out again and was driven to the home of Atty. Freney in Dorchester. No representative of any newspaper spoke to him.

And today he has still held incommunicado, chiefly because he is of impulsive nature and now a bit of a bit on the verge of hysteria.

Babe and His Wife

In Happiest Days

THOSE WERE HAPPY DAYS FOR THE KING OF SWAT

Babe Ruth and his late wife are shown in the center of the group gathered about the festive board. This is one of the memories the mighty slugger has as he continues to grieve over the fate of his wife, who died in the fire that swept the Watertown home of Dr. E. H. Kinder. The tragic death of Mrs. Ruth has been a severe blow to baseball's idol.

Little Dorothy May Go Back to the Orphanage

THE possibility that neither Babe Ruth nor the family of his dead wife will obtain custody of nine-year-old Dorothy Ruth was seen today.

Judson Hannigan, counsel for the Woodfords, pointed out there is good reason to believe that the child was adopted by the Ruths from a Brooklyn (N. Y.) Catholic orphanage on a "renewed custody" basis, an arrangement under which Dorothy's custody was renewed from time to time.

It would appear from this that the orphanage still has jurisdiction over the little girl, and raises the possibility that the institution may resume her custody.

ATLANTIC AIR LINES ARE SUGGESTED

Washington, Jan. 16—The use of airplanes and airplanes in transatlantic commerce is proposed in one of two bills that were before the Shipping Board today for the purchase of the United States line and the American Merchant line.

The largest bill was that of P. W. Chandler, of New York, who offered $10,000,000 for all ships of 10,000 tons or more, and $1,750,000 for the T-10s.

The ship and a plane suggestion was included in the bill of Willis Brown, Inc., and J. H. Winchester, Inc., both New York firms which said it was their intention to construct airplanes and ships for use in conjunction with steamships.

The ships would be used for regular transatlantic flights and would eventually make bi-weekly crossings. The planes would be used for ship-to-shore and shore-to-ship service with steamers.

The Gibbs and Wheeler firms suggested that it would be best to carry only mail and express until the planes were thoroughly tested and perfected and it was suggested also to enter the passenger business.

Dr. Joseph W. Proctor of the State Department, in a public statement was the speaker at an annual meeting of the United States Navy for 1929.

Dr. Proctor said that a bill has been filed in the Senate which is intended to prevent the purchase of a new ship that which recently he felt the number of the ship name stood in Dedham.

BANKRUPT RING DOOMED; BANK TO BE RECEIVER

New York, Jan. 16 (INS)—The $17,000,000 bankruptcy ring was crushed today with announcement by Federal Judge John C. Knox that individuals will no longer be appointed receivers in bankruptcy cases in this federal district.

Instead, the American Exchange Irving Trust Company has been named to handle all receiverships, thus eliminating for all time the element of patronage in the selection of receivers.

Judge Knox declared the decision was reached by himself and his colleagues after conferences with U. S. Atty. Tuttle, and Assistant George Minter and Edward Silver. Although the new plan is announced at the height of the investigation of the Rabinovitch case, which was to be held here today by Max Fisher, federal deputy court clerk, Judge Knox emphatically declared arrangement with the American Exchange Irving Trust Co. had been under way since Dec. 24.

8 Coast Guards Die In Rescue Attempt

London, Jan. 16 (INS)—Eight Dutch Coast guardsmen were drowned when their lifeboat capsized as they were trying to save the crew of the stranded Danish steamship Yalla, near the Hook of Holland, says a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam.

200-Lb. Cheese All Grease; He Sobs But Profits

Michael Di Carlo, Lynn provision merchant, almost broke down in Lynn District Court today.

He was plaintiff, not defendant, but the tale he had to tell to Judge Rowe was one that might well bring tears to the eyes of any business man with honest pride in his own character.

Di Carlo admitted buying a 200-pound cheese, costing him, paying $81 each for it—and finding it only a rind with a stuffing of automobile grease.

The culprit, Steve Thulke of Brooklyn, N. Y., was found guilty of fraud and given three months' suspended sentence. He must pay back the $81.

"I was sick that morning," Di Carlo said, "or he couldn't have fooled me. I made him cut me a sample, but I didn't watch close. He took the sample out of his pocket, not out of the cheese."

There's one grain of solace left in Di Carlo. If he gets his $81 back, the deal will net him a profit, for he sold the 200 pounds of grease to a sexamaker.

Dog Teams Race to Hub on Third Day

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1929

Exit 'Boyish Forms' as Jazz Era Is Fading

New York, Jan. 16 (INS)—The slim, boyish form is passing.

Advance displays of what the American girl will wear six weeks from now, as staged today by the Garment Retailers of America, indicate that the slender, straight silhouette is to be supplanted by an outline that gives a bit more publicity to the curves of the wearer.

Mannequins, many of them 5'10" long late or parts—another departure—paraded in new creations that showed that the dominant note of woman's apparel when the warm weather sets in will be femininity.

Frills, modernistic trimmings in embroidered and other effects, and bright, feminine colors were much in evidence.

Increasing assessments upon Boston, through the payment of annual charges for parkways and highways in the metropolitan area was vigorously protested at a legislative hearing today by Representative Luke D. Sullivan of Charlestown and Thomas H. Hildman, assistant counsel for the city.

The protest came during a hearing on a bill for reconstructing the Newburyport Turnpike in Middlesex and for construction of a portion of the southern highway, from Braintree to Five Corners, through Weymouth to Abington.

Malton pointed out that Boston pays a large part of the State tax contribution, heavily by the State highway fund, puts up overhead the cost of the metropolitan district.

Coming at the busiest part of the rush period, between 8 and 8:45, the tie-up seriously affected all subway traffic, besides completely blocking the Commonwealth ave. and Beacon st. lines from Brighton, Newton, Watertown, Allston and Brookline.

Lady Bailey Ends South Africa Hop

Croydon Eng., Jan. 16 (AP)—Lady Bailey landed her light plane here today after flying from France and thus completing her long, lone air journey to Cape Town and return, she left the southern tip of Africa on May 12.

On her flight, Lady Bailey landed at many out-of-the-way places and sometimes had difficulty in replenishing the small supply of clothing which she carried in one suitcase. ## SANDING OUTS IF MARINES DO, HE PLEDGES

Regulation, Honduras, Jan. 16 (AP)—Withdrawal of American marines from Nicaragua is the condition upon which Gen. Augusto Somoza, Nicaraguan rebel general, is willing to lay down his arms. Letters written by Gen. Somoza stating this and that he will not deal with the United States were made public by the newspaper El Sol, whose editors announced that the authenticity of the documents was beyond question.

One letter is an answer to Rear Admiral David Sellers, U. S. N., commanding the special service squadron in Central American waters, and to Brig. Gen. Louisford, U. S. M. C., commanding the marine force in Nicaragua. It reads: "I am glad to hear that you are not going to use force by force, and I must absolutely reject any interference by your government in the internal affairs of my country and demand that the sovereignty of a people cannot be discussed but only determined by arms in my hands."

"It is in this sense that I say that I will not enter into any settlement for peace only with Honduras, in spite of the fact that he became a traitor to the liberal party, which error he must be considered as a compromise to be concluded with the Nicaraguan people and the liberal party by respecting the terms which we shall propose as the proper approach."

"To arrive at an effective peace settlement, we propose as the first condition that it is indispensable that the American forces withdraw from our country. This accomplished, your forces should vacate the four northern departments of Segovia, Jinotega, Estero and Matagalpa. The Nicaraguan army and army supplies may remain, but without any American officers or soldiers."

FLU EPIDEMIC NOW SWEEPING WHOLE COUNTRY

Is Milder Than in 1918, But Emergency Demand for Vicks Breaks All Records

The influenza epidemic which broke out late in October on the Pacific Coast has spread, with startling rapidity until now practically every section of the country is affected.

Although the flu itself is not so serious as in 1918, authorities stress the importance of taking every possible precaution for fear of the complications which invade the weakened system after a flu attack. They urge especially prompt treatment of every cold, as colds lower the body resistance and make it easier for germs of flu or pneumonia to get a foothold.

That the public is heeding this warning is indicated by the phenomenal demand for Vicks VapoRub, the famous external treatment which leaked to fame almost overnight during the triple epidemic, the Vicks laboratories are once more creating night and day to meet the emergency, and more than 275,000 jars are now being produced every 24 hours.

INSPECT PEARY FOR HIS 'DREAM ISLE' CRUISE

Inspection of the second-aided Peary, former Arctic exploration ship of Donald R. MacMillan, was made today by William Schomberg of Cleveland, representative of M. F. Bramley, millionaire new owner of the vessel.

The vessel is due to glide from the ways at the Richard T. Green shipyard, Chelsea, tomorrow, after which food supplies and fuel will be stowed, preparatory to the start for the Pacific, where Bramley will make a fisherman's paradise of his island.

Schomberg arrived from Cleveland and made his inspection with Capt. L. B. Lockwood, who has been acting for Bramley. He said the start will probably be made in three weeks.

Bramley is said to have dreamed of a coral isle, sought it by boat and then by plane, found it and laid plans for building a breakfast stand, it, which is the main purpose of the coming expedition.

Residents of Greater Boston, however, are not so sanguine. They say today is the coldest day in some years, and the weather bureau in the Federal Building in this city was reporting normal temperatures.

While it above was the lowest recorded by the official Boston thermometer, a thermometer at the corner of the Federal Building in this city was reporting normal temperatures. The lowest Massachusetts reading was at Lenox, where it stood at 22 below.

The previous coldest day in Concord was last Monday, when an official thermometer at the corner of the Federal Building in this city was reporting normal temperatures. The lowest Massachusetts reading was at Lenox, where it stood at 22 below.

Because of a variety of the weather, which resulted in heavy vapor at the southern entrance to the Federal Building, the Federal Building in this city was reporting normal temperatures. The lowest Massachusetts reading was at Lenox, where it stood at 22 below.

Because the land warmed up, the water, a fog covered the end of the canal, preventing navigation. It cleared at 10:30, at which time the Robert E. Lee, commander on the Federal Building, reported, and today's lowest mark had not been reached since 1918, when minus 26 was recorded on the thermometer of the semi-official weather bureau.

SMART SET MEMBERS JOURNEYING OVERSEAS, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

EVERLASTINGLY AND CON-TINUOUSLY they go abroad, the fashionable set. For them the Earth's seven seas and its two hemispheres furnish anything but ever new, new scenes, new friends, new playgrounds, new recreations.
A season's travel over the seven seas is to include it all must have been before. Indeed, a season is often to Egypt where modernity abounds, antiquity, and society plays at the evening explication and daytime sports, tennis under Egyptian skies, polo between the green sandhills, President and Egyptian racing, with domestic social habits and resident politicians attending the king of sheik.

A MEDITERRANEAN CROSS-ING from Genoa and Naples via the Euphrates to Syracuse was the method Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jackson of Boston employed to arrive at Cairo, where Sheppard's Hotel is the center of international recreation and life is brilliant. Stopping up the Nile in a trip lined with romance, as Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan Miller found it when they included the voyage in their Egyptian trip. Mrs. James M. Newell on the Arabia was a passenger to Lamer and Amos on the river from Cairo.

ALL TRAVELERS ON THE Continent make a last long excursion, at the European crossroads, which is small and mountain bound Switzerland. Lebanon, the place out, has its daily, its weekly, its yearly quota of tourists. Mr. and Mrs.
Andrew Eggen have been guests on a journey up and down Europe and over the Mediterranean, briefly into the old country, just lately closed to the world's recreation tourists.

BERLIN'S CULTURAL ATTRAC-TIONS and the lure of splendid scenic performances takes the tourists to that handsome city. New Englanders and Bostonians whose names have been written down in hotel guest lists include Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Little who had apartments at the Hotel Reichardt and were at the opera, the most liked performance. A year-round resort, gay and brilliant and most attractive to your traveler abroad in the present, renaissance is a social center in Berlin.

NEVER QUITE WITHOUT ITS
New England representation is London, Europe, where old frontiers are frequently to be crossed and new states to be visited.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Higginson found the carol panorama of the River Elbe to their liking and the recently opened divisions of Dresden and the city of a famous and centrally time filling. Their names going on the summer's long and interesting tour of Americans abroad.

THEIR A THRILL OF culture, even to the most ardent of American Americans, in making abroad along European highways, with home before them, are inspired by the culture of place and people. One grand Hotel in Portugal has issued cards and commissions, both and their Indian Americans who have quite understood for pleasure. Charles Tour-ment of Boston has been a guest at the Grand Hotel in Florence, where life is more busy cultural than effervescence gay, and ancient beauty is everywhere.

GOING TO PHARGE FOR ITS
music and for its own delicious urban attractions is the way with many who like to move and what off the beaten trails across Europe. And Prague was on the European itinerary. Mr. and Mrs.
Louise Craft, person from capital to capital. During their stay they were guests at the Bohemian. Mrs. and Mrs. Theodore Oswald, father of Cambridge in Southern France found Prague and went to the picturesque small town, Jaussen-Puech.
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thibault, Jr.
Cordoba now stayed and like the Balkans were at the Prater.

The Misses Prudence Jones and Serita Bartlett are among the younger set enthusiasts who enjoy the skating at Boston Arena.

AMERICANS WHO CAN GO abroad on this side of the ocean by merely following the sun trail toward the equator make trouble you about the oldest turquoise Caribbean. The most famous of tourists, with his son William Whitter, were passengers on a Great White Fleet steamer with Jamaica, their central destination and having all the other West Indian ports on their insular passage from tropical to temperate. Of course Mr. Whitter's impressions found expression in print, poignant and witty and intensely illuminating even to the most pronounced city-borne.

THIS SIDE OF THE BIG POND
Americans who in their great love to linger at Virginia Hot Springs. Boston's quota in that hill country is always liberally represented by the cosmopolitan, and so naturally included Mrs. Lindsay Fairfax of Boston and New York, and her daughter, Miss Grace Lindsay Fairfax. Very few are the smart resorts and international social centers unknown to Mrs. Fairfax and the various members of her much traveled family. When she is in town of winter Mrs. Fairfax usually maintains an apartment in the Hotel Vendome, and summers in New England as a rule to her native the North shore, and an establishment in that quite exclusive location.

THERE ARE PATROGERS in hats and sunglasses. The distances through the season's importance as one of philanthropy's super necessary adjuncts. Some are wholly important, and others increasing, too, for the very reason it is close the gate of the winter world now with Elizabeth Peabody House benefit, Jan. 20 at the Arena.
Everywhere, by the way, in the winter must be the name mentioned of the skating carnival for the skating rink in the city. It is a Ward McAllister collection of Bostonians.

Mrs. Francis Lee Higginson, 24 there's always the Country Club daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Clark and little Miss Rosemary Swan, daughter of the S. Fairman rink in their away-from-study hours.

THE ARENA IS BUSTY WITH young skaters diligently seeking perfection for their evening performance in the club's ice carnival.
And when not skating indoors.

WHAT HAVE YOU DONE WITH ALL YOUR MONEY?

THINK of it!—all that money you have earned since you started to work. Where did it go? You can't imagine now where even half of it went. What if you had it today? How much have you today?

Of course nobody can save all he earns, but every one of us can save something. Suppose you had saved 10% of your earnings for the last ten years, with interest at 4%, compounded. How much would it be by this time? Figure it out just for fun. The figures will astound you!

The next ten years are ahead. Start now to put away a little money each week—each month—without fail—no skips. Make the amount convenient—whatever you can afford. Save it to have it. You will always know where that money is, and you'll be surprised how fast and easily it grows. The Shawmut will gladly help you to start with any deposit from $1 up. Deposit at any of the thirteen Boston offices.

STOCK MARKET PLANS BIG OUTLET

Estimated largest production since the first quarter on record. Present state of the market is estimated to be 45,000 cars, which would compare with actual sales of 45,000 cars in the first quarter of 1927.

It is entirely too early to forecast a profit estimate on this basis. A profit of some new model cars as well as old models will be dependent upon sales volume. It is interesting to note, however, that a profit of $100,000,000 is expected to result in some 45,000 cars, which would compare with actual sales of 45,000 cars in the first quarter of 1927.

Wallowing in Figures

But Are the Academicians Who Gather Them Any Good at Forecasting?

Leading educators throughout this country have discovered in statistics a nobility that is making knowledge of percentages a road to royal learning. Intensity of modern culture is becoming a thing of numbers to be identified like a freight car.

That figures cannot lie is still a fetish of belief that will bear no rebuke, although this popular hallucination is akin to ancient "barroom knowledge" best typified by such dicta as "Gin is good for the kidneys," "To hit a man wearing glasses is a penitentiary offense."

The American Political Science Association, the American Economic Association, the American Farm Economic Association and the American Statistical Association have been wallowing in figures at Chicago while the American Sociological Society has been plunging about in its own pool of digits.

The conference rooms quivered in an atmosphere glutted with thought. The periphery of one professor pondering on prohibition contained such nuggets of ratiocination as these: "Ten thousand gallons of denatured alcohol worth $2500 to the manufacturer, is worth $600,000,000 to the bootlegger."

"Repeat all enforcement legislation, both State and Federal, leaving the law on the books but no machinery with which to enforce it."

"The number of waiters increased about three times as fast as the population, and the number of restaurant keepers increased four times as fast as the number of families from 1900 to 1920."

But this is not taken have any bearing on its obvious insinuation—a need for more waiters.

"One out of every eleven married women," the student is surprised to learn, "is working for pay outside the home."

"The number of delinquent dealers increased 43 per cent from 1910 to 1920."

Point that out to the wife at dinner tonight. The purpose of all these statistics, presumably, is to assemble the paraphernalia for prognostication. But are the academicians who gather them any good at forecasting?

Stars, Stripes, "Hooch"

A British View of Our Dear Prohibition

AS BRITAIN SEES US

This shows how the editor of the London Graphic views the present political prohibition situation in the United States. The women in the background are supposed to be American female voters who won the last election and used the picture of Herbert Hoover—not a very good likeness—as a stopper to cork up the "hooch traffic."

The idea of the editor is to present the United States as a combination of stars and stripes and bootleg liquor.

We know that the Stars and Stripes have nothing to do with the "bootleg traffic." But we know that that traffic has a good deal to do with the comfort of those that live under the Stars and Stripes.

Prohibition, establishing bootlegging and gunman gangs as a great and profitable industry, has given citizens outside of the bootlegging atmosphere a good deal to think and worry about.

Government once took hundreds of millions a year from the regulated traffic in beer, wine and whiskey.

Now, dispensing with that income, it spends hundreds of millions trying, in vain, to regulate an unregulated traffic in alcoholic poisons.

European countries think the United States made a poor trade when it exchanged Government supervision and a Government income for the ineffectual spending of hundreds of Government millions and the flooding of the country with poisonous bootleg whiskey.

However, that is what the people decided to do in the excitement and semi-hysteria of war.

We know, of course, that the last election was by no means an election in favor of prohibition and bootlegging. It was an election in favor of continued property, an election influenced by other considerations entirely apart from bootlegging.

But prohibitionists rejoice, quite naturally, and say "the 55,000,000 votes for Hoover were 22,000,000 separate and enthusiastic votes for prohibition."

Courses in Law for Middlesex Cops

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

SOME men are "born" husbands. Some "achieve" that state, some achieve themselves to domesticity, and some can NEVER be domestic.

"The 'born' husband is marked from his cradle, and has no chance of escape. He gravitates toward matrimony as surely as the needle toward the steel. He is just naturally a domestic animal, who enjoys sitting by the fire, curling up on the cushions of the divan, and being let in and out of the door at regular intervals."

He doesn't even "put up a fight" against marriage. He doesn't have to be adjusted or re-molded. He just folds up naturally like a cheap knife, into the domestic groove—and STAYS PUT!

But the man who has had the role of husband " thrust upon him " the "married bachelor" to the end of his days.

Some men never were intended for marriage—and no matter how often they try it, R never takes!

"The married bachelor" is filled with the curfew, irresponsible joys of Pan—which can never be shared by any woman. His ways, his habits, his opinions and his notions are not altered one jot or tittle by marriage. It rolls right over him like water off a slippery tile.

No woman is the sun, moon and stars of his existence; they are all merely the footlights. Why he ever married is a mystery. Why he ever stays married is a mystery.

But the woman who marries him and tries to mold a husband of him, must years for adventure!

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

MAUGERY LAWRENCE (Mrs. Arthur Towle) doesn't want to be a mother. She tells all about it in the January number of the Cosmopolitan. According to Mrs. Towle, rural mothers don't just happen. They get a call. She describes that call intriguingly.

"Somewhere out in the world, that a few of us, with humility and patience, are trying to explore, wait the souls that must be incarnate in your good time and in God's good time—in mortal flesh, I firmly believe that when a soul chooses its place on earth—as I think they do—a silent call goes forth from that spark of divinity on the Other Side and wakes a response on this side, in the soul of the mother that is to be... and that, then, girls, surely, certainly, unmistakably, the desire for motherhood is born! The woman desires a child. That is not the only true motherhood—when beyond all doubt or wondering, deeply, sincerely, one knows that one wishes to bear a child!"

Such is the Call which divinely ordained mothers receive according to Mrs. Towle. Since she hasn't received it, she is politely but firmly rejecting motherhood. And, having rejected motherhood, she is looking for a good career, will probably be a woman with very active social life.

That is the truth about motherhood. Mrs. Towle is a smart and beautiful woman. She thinks her attitude toward motherhood is exceptional. It isn't. It has been shared by all mothers since Eve here on earth. No woman who has ever been a mother has ever not wanted to bear a child.

New York Daily Day

New York, Jan. 15.—The Sir Galahad footpad is not altogether a creation of the tabloids. In a dozen hold-ups lately there are authentic reports of a courtliness that under other circumstances would be amusing. So many spot their victims in night clubs, they wear dinner coats and often sit back to sit back.

A supreme effort is made to calm the ladies. A sudden hysterical scream has frustrated many well-planned robberies. The old custom of flourishing a cannon-like pistol menacingly has vanished. Instead, the robber of four ladies in evening dress, the head man in a muffled voice said:

"Nobody is going to be hurt. You are as safe as in your homes provided you obey orders. If any of you ladies have an urge to scream try to control yourself. I am greatly added: 'Dead ladies, you know, never talk.' There was a faint gasp."

In another hold-up near a fashionable Westchester club, the ladies who were commanded to slip from their luxuriant were assisted in the roadway by a police cavalier. After stripping them of valuables, he helped them back in the car, tucked the robes about them, and with a low bowed them out.

Perhaps the most graceful of the hold-ups was reported from a night club this winter. During the progress of a dance on a tightly packed floor, a well-dressed man dropped into an armchair and sat at a table where sat two gentlemen.

"If I were not desperate," he warned coldly, "I would not take such a chance." A hand in his coat pocket gripped a revolver, and they passed over their possessions. His nerve as stuned them he was gone in minutes before they recovered enough to report the theft.

The home of Al Smith at No. 25 Oliver st. is now an undertaking parlor. About the only thing left to remind neighbors of the former illustrious tenancy is a well-furnished parlour doorbell. And Mr. Smith, it seems to be fairly, is a tragic figure of desolation. He doesn't seem "the same old Al."
